

INCLUSIVE PUBLIC SPACES FOR URBAN LIVEABILITY

How can cities provide multi-functional public spaces that serve the purposes of all groups of society within the given ownership situations, stakeholder interests, security concerns or densification needs?
This session will explore methods for how to involve all groups citizens in development of public spaces, not only the usual suspects. How can we make city policies more inclusive? Experiences from Amsterdam will inform the discussion and participants invited to share the success stories.

Hosted by: JPI Urban Europe and Urban Agenda for the EU Partnership Inclusion of migrants and refugees

Chair: Mari Solerød, NRC, Acting Chair of JPI Urban Europe Governing Board

Co-chair: Sabina Kekic, City of Amsterdam, Coordinator of EU partnership on Inclusion of migrants and refugees

Case city presentation: Same as above

Programme

14.00-15.30 How do we involve all groups citizens in development of public spaces, not only the usual suspects?

What methods can we use to involve?

How can we make city policies more inclusive?

Exchange of experience: We share success stories and failures we have learned from

Give advice to JPI Urban Europe:

What kind of research do we need to enable cities to become more inclusive?

What other types of actions should we take on for the same purpose?