The challenge presented in the call

“It has proven difficult to move from a short term citizen involvement initiative to a sustained practice where citizen involvement is truly incorporated.”

(Source: Making Cities Work: Closing the gap between citizens, companies and city policy)

Project outline

Two existing methodologies

combined to create ONE system to enhance democratic values in Urban planning and decision making.

INSIGHT

(Allies RHYTHM with IW)

ENLIGHT

(Preference and DecideIT)

Possible added values in new process

- Less appeals
- Scenario planning for a more efficient process
- Method gives option to elaborate with different inputs ie stakeholders raised a specific issue & and what issue was raised by what stakeholder

→ Overall transformation outcome; From a compliance process to a value creating innovative and more transparent process than today's'

Questions and challenges

Capacity and competence

- Will the City be able to manage extended participatory planning?
- What does it take to be involved for citizens?
- Reskilling – discover the advantages

The road head

- Integrate in every project – consultation/participation
- Use of different/multiple tools for decision-making
- Combine analysis methods to further explore transparency and democratic values
