

Questions and Comments in the Q&A - Urban Lunch Talk #16, Positive Energy Districts

- 1 Hello every body, how do you adress the problem of the rebound effect linked to an energy efficiency policy and renewable development policy in urban areas?
(I copy my question here to all the audience) Christoph, when you said a new "urban environment"... I was glad, and expecting to see something in closer connection to a new urban design taking into account the environmental energy sinks and sources, more in connection with the
- 2 urban agenda
- 3 i think you don't directly. rather focus on renewables and flexibility instead
- 4 rebound is important! ... eg people have higher roomtemperatures afterwards and energy consumption is high again
- 5 thank you for proposing a holistic view on rebound
Do you take Gender issues into account - into designing the technology with users (diverse users) and in the
- 6 applicaton of technology in daily practice?
One of the problem with the rebound effect is that the energy saving potential is very often overestimated, and when the financing model includes the saving, it increases the financingrisk for the homeowners for exemple or the
- 7 local administration
- 8 how do you deal with data protection issues?
Urban density creates a significant dilemma for renewable energy generation. There is only so much roof area and
- 9 geothermal to exploit.
A space of "other" would ge good to have at the poll...
Sometimes what you don't see may be more important
- 10 than what you actually see)
- 11 Would it be possible to share the slides with poll results?
Agree with retrofitting complexity .. when will we have
- 12 solar roof in historical districts in Paris :))
- 13 thank you for this session!
thank you interesting issue on cyber security. With regard to residents - protection might be higher in mainland EU
- 14 than in UK
Regarding the PED Programme, gender issues are taken into account on all levels. Regarding practical implementation in projects of our calls, we are developing
- 15 respective guidelines could you inform me about these guidelines? Will the lunch seminar be available online (could not follow the whole time due to corona vaccination issues for my family ... difficult times). stay safe and thank you sylvia.pintarits
