Urban Transitions – from Strategies to Actions

Urban Living Labs and co-creative processes...

- Transition processes require appropriate policy frameworks
- Linear models to tackle societal challenges are inadequate
- Urban living labs provide the frameworks for co-creation with science-policy-business-society
- Urban experimentation is the key practise to work with urban complexities

PlaceCity Project – Floridsdorf, Vienna

Urban Living Labs in JPI Urban Europe projects

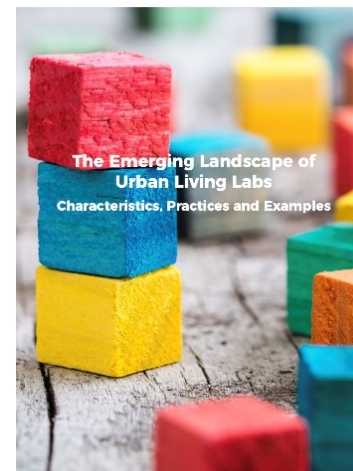

183 urban living labs implemented, addressing urban governance, water management, e-participation, public space design, mobility management, inter-ethnic co-existence, stakeholder involvement, urban food production, etc.
